Branch/Remote Office

Enhance networking security and performance for branch offices

H3C VPN technology for branch/remote offices enables enterprises to establish fast, reliable, secure end-to-end connections across the Internet to link remote branch offices, business partners and mobile offices with each other and with an organization's headquarters. Flexible and intuitive, it enables quick, granular control of network resources. Meanwhile, SecPath security products integrate powerful attack prevention, VPN functions and intelligent network features into a single hardware platform, facilitating management and lowering total cost of ownership.
